Excitement at Washington...Mr. Wise and the Know Nothings.

I'At Washington City on Saturday night, when the result of the Virginia election was pretty clearly indicated, the excrement was intense. At 8 o'clock a large crowd composed of Mr. Wise's friends and Know Nothings, had collected in front of Brown's Hotel, and a band was playing in compliment to Wise. We copy from the National Intelligencer the following further account of the

A professional and usually accurate reporter has presented to us the following sketch of the brief remarks of Mr. Wise, to which we give place, under the impression that it presents a faithful ver-sion of all that was said and done: At nine o'clock Mr. Wise was introduced from the balcony to the auditory, and was greeted with applause by a portion of the crowd and hoots and hisses by another portion. He commenced his speech as follows:

Fellow cuizens of Washington, I never regretted more in my life than now that I have not more atrength. It is not generous to trample on prostrate foes. (Cries of 'Good,' and 'hear,' accompanied by groans and other noisy demonstrations.]

But if ever a man might be allowed to put his heal on the neck of an enemy, I might be pardonnear on the neck of an enemy, I might be pardon-ed for doing so to night. (Renewed interruptions.) If there was ever an opponent domineering and dictatorial, it is that illiberal party which ossumes now to rule America. 'Sam' has boasted that he was the invisible invincible; but I have met the black knight with his vizor down, and his shield and lance are broken! He had crossed the North, stamping his foot, so that the nation might feel the shaking of the earth. But he traveled in the night, with dark lantern in hand, and just before day, the darkest time of the night, to do his boasting. Men became appailed, their blood curdled in their veins, their muscles crowded on their bones, and feats came over the minds of the people. I had proclaimed that this invisible invincible was easily conquerable. I knew the rock of defence, and that rock was the indomitable Democracy— Here, as at every preceding sentence, there was noisy interruption.

Mr. Wise then briefly related the travel perform-

Mr. Wise then briefly related the travel performed and the oratorical toils endured by him during the canvass in Virginia, and continued as follow, Notwitustanding that Sain had achieved victories in the North, I knew he could not meet the masses of the people in their primary ossemblages in Virginia. I knew he could not stand before the pibroch and trump of liberty. He might live in the land of the secret ballot, but he could not survive the rise roce of the people of Virginia. in the land of the secret bandy near the very survive the riest roce of the people of Virginia. By that voice Sam was overwhelmingly computed in the Old Dominion. [Applause, crits of huzza for Sam, hisses, groons, &c.]

tor Sam, hisses, groons, &c.]
This is a demonstration, I suppose, of liberty, of Americans railing America. The ear of the people is not to be allowed to listen to the language of liberty. Not only are these. Sams hurraling for the destruction of religious liberty, but they would trample on the freedom of pen and speech. Ap-

litical friends rushed into the hotel to congratulate

For the Intelligencer. In the Times & Gazette of Saturday, we have an address of Wharton's to the public, and in it, are some things which ought not to be overlooked, the' the election is passed by. The Times is the organ here of the so called American party, and this party is responsible for the conduct and opinions of its organ. The editorial alluded to was written after the excitement of the election was over, but while what was said and promised was fresh in the mind. In addressing the foreign sup. porters of his American party, Wharton says "We (I quote from the paper) by no means condemn any man of foreign birth who voted the upposing ticket. But they (the foreigners) who with the representations made of it, voted the American ticket, deservemented honor, and they (the foreigness) will find, that the American organization exclude... none from office or honor where the welfate of the country sanctions it. They ask no more, they offer no less."

I think that all men, who have or profess to have any feats of foreign influence in our elections, whether Know Nothings or others would do well to ponder over this extract and to read it again and again. The election is over, and we are in a better condition coolly to examine into the pretentions and purposes of this New Party. I am deceived, if many have not been DECKIVED BY IT. Whatton discloses the remarkable fact, that this party is in a worse humor with Americans who would not vote with it, than with foreigners. The party has no fault to find with foreigners who voted the opposing and anti-Know Nothing ticket, implying, that it has fault to find with Americans, who voted it, and by consequence, that Americans are less to be relied on than foreigners. Over and over again, has the American or Know Nothing party, advanced that it was gotten up, expressly to put down the foreign voters. We never did believe, that this was its real purpose. We always belived that it was a mere political party, gotten up for the possession of the political offices and honors of the country; and the hostility to foreigners and Catholics was only assumed by the prime movers and leaders, the better to enable them to accomplish their selfish and ambitions purposes. Knowing how numerous natives and Catholics, are compared with protestants and Catholics, and how natural it is with usall, to dislike foreign interference, and how much afraid Protestants are of Catholic influences, these men addressed themselves directly to the American and Protestant feeling of the country, when in truth, they cared no more for either, than than for other people. Wharton, with many of the qualifications of the partisan Editor of a country paper, and particularly for the impudence, with which he can lie his friends through and his unemies down, is not remarkable for prudence, sagacity or good sense. In his paper we find him disclosing

the fact, that he and the American party are ready to count foreigners, as others are, not scrupling to promise them honors and offices. Sober and reflecting people will see that it is here disclosed, that as to the matter of courting and favoring for eign voters, this American party are no better than others. And for the comfort of our foreign friends says: would say, "they have a good time coming"-That the American party is in the field bidding for their favor-and that it is a political party, in pur suit of power and office only-not even decently veiled; and that it will woo them with a diligence, and seward with them a munificence heretofore unknown. But I request sater thinking men to think of this, and to renember that this American party this, and to renember that this American party now addresses itself to the favor of foreigners, and directly back north-west, with redoubled violence, that this American party now promises the foreign at struck a heavy frame house one mile from the prause and disapprobation.]

I tell you, you have found your master in a purified majority, which consists of the consciention areas, and conservative men of both the old parties. [Renewed interruptions, mingled with cries for holy water.]

My friends, I would, were I one of the Lord's annointed, give a little of the holy water you ask for. You need it. (Groans.) You who are crying out there for a little holy water are hypocrites. [Groans.] You don't mean it. You have joined the war waged by the Abulitionists on the institutions of Virginia. If you are sincere in desiring holy water, I will commend you to you own high priests, to the forty odd Protestant popes of the Massachusetts Legis'ature. [Applause, mingled with cries of 'Hurrah for Sam.'] Speaking inoncally, Mr. Wise continued, being momentarily interrupted by cheers and other non-sest I think I have made converts of you, judging from your cheering. I thank you from my heart for your decent, orderly conduct and behavior. You demonstrated that you are worthy to be mas-

You demonstrated that you are worthy to be mosters of this great courtry! What laws will guard us it such men as you rule the country? Discussion is not tolerated, speech is silenced. [Loud hurrals for Sam and grosns.]

My lungs are too weak for me to contend with a rabble like you. A mob of Know Nothings has seized upon the capital of the country. I have in conservative Whigs and indomitable Democrats to say whether this disprace shall abide here. (Orles of 'No,' 'no,' 'Go on,' Hurrah for Sam,' &c.)

I must thank you my friends, for the compliment of 'No,' 'no,' 'Go on,' Horrah for San,' Xc.)

I must thank you my friends, for the compliment
you intend to pay me, ('Go on! 'go on!' 'go on!' 'No, I shall not go on. My lungs won'! permit it.
And I will conclude by saying that here in Washington the freedom of speech is not allowed by a tyrant and dictator and datk-iantern oligrachy, which ever seeks to oppress.

Mr. Wise then withdrew and crowds of his po-

Carlisle (American) has been elected in the 11th district. The Congressmen, therefore, as far as heard from are:

1...John S. Millson, Dem., re-elected.

3. . John S. Caskie, Dem., re-elected. 4. . Wm. O. Gnode, Dem , re-elected. 5. . Thomas S. Hocock, Dem., re-elected.

6. . Wm. Powell, American, gain. . Wm. Smith, D. and A., te-elected. 8. . Chas. J. Paulkner, Dem., re-elected. 10.Z. Kidwell. Dem., re-elected. 11. Carlisle (American).

There are four districts yet to hear from. The Legislature is largely Democratic.

Le Newark, N. J., is now estimated to conain a population of 57,200 persons. In 1850 the United States census made the population 38,894. Newark is entirely a manufacturing place, and its strange to say, one of them proved to be the iden-tanid increase shows that our manufacturing cities lical letter mailed in this town and directed to rapid increase shows that our manufacturing cities are destined to become great cities. In 1826 the population of Newark was 8017; in 1830 it was 10,995; in 1835 it was 18,201; in 1846, 25,433.

ARMS FOR KANSAS .-- 't'he Philadelphia Legder ates that Theodore Parker told them in his antilayery address in that city, last week, that 200 of Sharpe's rifles had been sent from Boston in boxes abelied "books," to arm as many of the New England settlers in Kansas territory against the ittacks of Missourion incursionists.

KANSAS ELECTION .- A dispatch from St. Loui-Thied the 24th, states that in all the districts in which an election was held, pro-slavery men have been returned to the Legislature. This may be true but it needs confirmation.

THE TORNADO IN ILLINOIS .- The Chicago papers sourm the accounts by telegraph of the dreadful effects of a tornado in Cook county, Illinois. The scene of its devastation was the town of Jefferson. sixteen miles from Chicago. Accounts from the interior of the State also speak of its effects in that his own means were inadequate, and who different places. different places.

A Terrific Storm---Loss of Life,

A dispatch from Chicago dated the 24th inst

Accounts reached this city last night of a most terrific harricane and whirlwind which passed over the town of Jefferson, Cook county, and other places north and west of here on Tuesday evening. itspidly revolving, funnel-shaped clouds swiftly along near the ground, about 10 funnel-shaped clouds passe north of here, carrying up large sticks of wood, stones, &c. It described a semi circle towards the south-west, twisting off large trees and whisking them out of sight instanter.

The whirlwind then broke in two and disapvoters that if they will vote with it, they shall lith a lith and Wisconsin Railroad; instantly the toof was torn off. Almost immediately the whole have offices and marked honors, have offices and marked honors, in the shall be seen fault to find

It next struck the barn and threw it upon a horse and a number of cattle, crushing them at once .killed.

Additional intelligence from the locality more than confirm the above. Accounts are eiten of persons being carries several hundred feet in the air and hurled down with great violence.

The same evening a severe hall storm visited this city; after which, the sky at the northward presented a most singular appearance, accompanied by a most sultry and oppressive heat, suddenly changing to chilling breezes.

Address of the Catholic Bishops. [From the National Intelligencer.]

Messis. Gales and Scaton will oblige a very large number of their most attentive readers by giving a place to the following closing sentences of an address of the Bishops of the Catholic Church, recently assembled in Council at Baltimore. The ndvice conveyed in it partakes so clearly of those sentunents of heavenly charity and patriotic devoon which should characterize the true Christian that I think it deserves a wide circulation, and therefore I solicit a place for it in your widely read journal. I may add that I have for nearly forty years attended a Catholic church, and I can with reat truth say that I have never heard from pulpit of altar, a word or sentence conflicting of inonsistent with the rentments and principles of May Ul. THE EXTRACT.

Beloved Brethern of the Laity, we embrace you all with parental affection, and entreat you to walk circumspectly, for the days are evil. You know what manner of precepts we have given you in the name of the Lord Jesus; for this is the will of God, your sanctification. Practise patience, for-bearance, charity towards all. In the exercise of your rights as free ci izens, temember your tesponsibility to God, and act as freemen, but not as having liberty as a clock for malice, but us the servants of God. Respect and obey the constituted authorities, for all power is from God, and they that tesist, tesist the ordinances of God, and pur-chase for themselves dannation. To the General and State Governments you owe allegiance in all that regards the civil order: the authorities of the Church challenge your obedience in things of sal-vation. We have no need of pressing this distinc-tion, which you fully understand and constantly observe. You know that we have uniformly taught you, both publicly and privately, to perform all the duties of good catizens, and that we have never exyou as we ourselves have never made, even to the highest ecclemastical authority, any engagements inconsistent with the duties we owe to the country and its laws. On every opportune occasion, we have avowed these principles, and even in our communications to the late Pontiff, we rejected as calumny the imputation that we were in civil matters subject to his authority. Be not disturbed at the misstatements of our tenets which are daily made, or at the effort to deprive us of our civil rights, and of the confidence and esteem of our fellow-citizens. Fermidable as is the combination for this pur-pose, we do not despair that the justice and good sense of the nation will soon discover the ground. less character of the suspicion thrown on the fidenty of Catholies, whose religion teaches them to respect and maintain the established order of society, and or what speecer form of government they may himsed. Arethren let the light of your examp. Thine below men, that they may see your good work and glorify your Pather who is in Heaven. Pray for the conversion and salvation of all men, for this is the will of God, who desires that all men may be saved and may come to the knowledge of the truth

BETTING ON THE VINGINIA ELECTION .- The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Clip-

A lamentable feature in the canvass was the betting of large sums of money, and other valuables, from a horse and buggy up to the golden watch and diamond breastpurs. Not a few men have staked all they could command from their private resources, or bottow; and some few Christain professors alike participated in the wayering, while noted gamblers bet high on the result. Washington, according to our information, was converted into a spacious gambling saloon. They who win laugh, but the losers cannot possibly feel comfortable. Experience is a dear school, but some people will learn in no other. A typo who was lamenting that he had lost nine buttles of porter by betting, received the cold comfort from a letohaller, "I'm glad of it; it were better for you to losse the porter than your sobriety"-- a remark that was received in a kindred spirit of

ADVENTURES OF A LETTER .- The Tolland county (Conn.) Gazette gives the following particulars of a curious affair connected with the transmission of letters: "A letter was written and duly mailed at the postoffice in this town, directed to a faily in New York State—the town we do not remember. Nothing was heard from it, and the writer had no means of knowing whether it reached its destina-tion or not. Some time after one of the paper mills in this town received from Boston a quantity of waste paper, &c. in bales, to be used as stock in their manufactory. One of the bales was found to contain a lot of letters, with the postoffice stamp, indicating that they had been mailed.

"The letters were mostly sealed, and the work. men amused themselves by opening them. In some of them was found money in small sums, and New York. The letter was returned to the writer, after having been for some months in the care of the United States Post Office Department, and at last returned to a paper mill not two miles from where it started, to be used in the manufacture of Crors.— Accounts from Michigan and Ohio pulp. Now, what explanation can be given of this matter?"

> CALIFORNIA SENATORSHIP .-- There seems to be much difference of opinion as to whether Doctor Gwin is entitled to the honor of being the United States Senator from California in consequence of his having received a plurality on the first ballot. This view is taken of it by his Itiends, but a private letter says: "The Senatorial election has assumed a new as> pect. Dr. Gwin claims that he was elected on the first ballot, which was taken last winter, he having received a plurality of the votes cast; but I do tot think he will succeed in establishing his claim, as an not of the Legislature says explicitly that it equires a majority of all the votet to elect."

> GENERAL SCOTT'S HOUSE,-The New York Commercial referring to a recent statement of a Boston paper says:-

The residence of General Scott is a neat mansion.—It cost about twenty-five thousand dollars, and was purchased by him, not since "the title of Lieutenant General was given to him, with the salary auded from the time of the war with Mexititle was conferred on him; and he was only able to make the purchase of sold house by the aid of a circle of personal friends who happened to know
